

Are you in favor of cloning? Why (not)?

Should cloned individuals have the same rights as naturally born humans?

How would it feel to know you're a copy and not the original? Would it change how you see yourself?

Do you believe space colonization is a necessity or a luxury for humanity?

When humanity is trying to survive in space, do ethics still matter? Or should survival come first?

What do you think are the biggest challenges humanity faces in colonizing another planet?

Let's discuss the movie and some topics about it!

Is it acceptable to use someone as an "expendable" in war or dangerous missions?

Can we trust politicians to make ethical decisions when it comes to scientific advancements?

Should religious leaders have a say in political decisions?

Is there a point where technology becomes too powerful or dangerous? Who should be responsible for controlling it?

Can space exploration be a fresh start for humanity, or do we bring our old problems with us?

What are the dangers when church and state mix, especially in high-stakes situations like space colonization?